Coaching Director Kevin Brooks

As a native of Stow, MA, Brooks began his high school hockey at St. Johns of Shrewsbury, whereby he finished 5th in Division I scoring during his sophomore year. He then moved onto prep school hockey at Lawrence Academy in the Independent School League, where he led the league in scoring during his senior year while winning a championship. He was voted to the all-league team during his junior and senior years.

Upon graduation from high school, Brooks headed out west to play in the USHL for the Cedar Rapids RoughRiders. In his first campaign with the team, he was second on the team in scoring, third in penalty minutes, and voted "Rookie of the Year". In his second year, he represented the RoughRiders as team captain, and was voted "fan favorite." His hard work earned him a scholarship to Providence College.

After one season at Providence, Brooks transferred to Curry College in Milton, MA. His sophomore season as a Colonel helped the program earn an automatic bid to the NCAA Div III nationals and was voted assistant captain.

However, due to injury, Brooks was forced to retire. Most recently he has coached the Walpole Express Junior A and B teams. During his two year span the Junior B team was ranked second in the country and the Walpole Express won the college award for placing the most players in college. During the past two years Brooks has also worked as Director for RBHockey.

Brooks currently resides in Cedar Rapids, Iowa with his wife Kathy where he is the Director of Hockey for the Cedar Rapids Ice Arena as well as the assistant coach for the Cedar Rapids RoughRiders (USHL.)

Additional D1 and Professional Coaching Staff:

Mark Mullen: Assistant Coach Cedar Rapids RoughRiders & former captain of Boston University Terriers

Chris Snavelly: Won national title with Michigan State & currently plays in ECHL
